WHAT TO EXPECT AT YOUR FIRST JOB

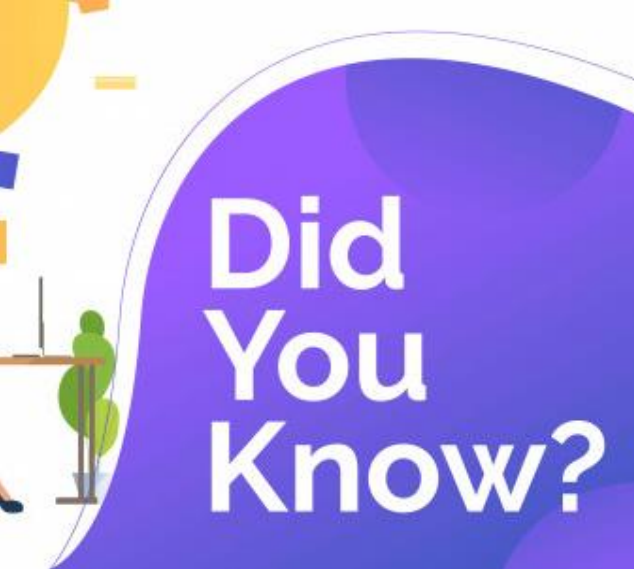

Different Career Path

No two students share the same career path.

Each one requires individualized Goal Mapping and Career Planning for his or her development and Growth.

Did You Know?

Finding a job is a job in itself.

It's not about just getting a job but to have a dream career path.

Except there are a few things that no one is going to tell you about in the working world.

A large, yellow, speech-bubble-shaped graphic with a black outline. Inside the bubble, the words "HELPFUL TIPS" are written in a bold, black, sans-serif font. The text is centered within a white rectangular area. Surrounding the bubble are several black icons: a lightbulb in a circle at the top right, a megaphone at the bottom left, and several small black triangles and dots scattered around the bubble's edges.

HELPFUL
TIPS

What you need to know is what you are getting into.

So let's talk about something about your first job to look forward to.

It's no Longer enough to be just smart and having potential

What will now matter is your actual RESULTS

A large group of skydivers in various colorful suits are falling from the sky against a clear blue background. They are arranged in a large, human pyramid shape, with many more skydivers scattered around the perimeter. The skydivers are in various poses, some with arms outstretched, some with legs tucked, and some in more complex formations. The overall scene is dynamic and energetic.

It's your attitude that matters.

Being polite and cheerful
isn't optional if you want to thrive in most workplaces.

You won't get a salary hike for at least one Year.

Fresher's in the professional world do not always realize this and think they can negotiate a raise say, three or six months

The image features a white background with several abstract geometric elements. In the top left, there are two vertical yellow dashes. To their right is a large blue oval. Further right is a green right-angled triangle pointing downwards. In the top right corner, a yellow semi-circle is partially visible. On the left side, there is a green square outline. Below it, several yellow dashes of varying lengths and orientations are scattered. A large orange semi-circle occupies the right half of the image, containing two lines of white text.

What will matter the most is the errors you make.

At work, your mistakes can have an impact on your boss, your co-workers and your company.

It's no more Holiday time

Many work places open the next day after every such occasion and some even do not close.

Long vacations are non-existent in the corporate world.

You need to be polite and show your interest.

As a fresher you are expected to look attentive and show your interest.

There would always be eyes watching you.

Just getting a task done is not considered great achievement.

Take the first step to do things in your department.

You might not get much done if you keep waiting for instructions from someone for every small task.

The background of the slide is a close-up, slightly blurred image of a green hourglass. The sand is dark and is captured in the middle of falling from the top bulb to the bottom bulb. The hourglass is centered in the frame, and the overall tone is dark and moody. A white border frames the central text area. A bright yellow triangle is positioned in the bottom right corner of the slide.

30 minutes. That's your Lunch time.

In many workplaces, 30 minutes is the maximum lunch time and sometimes you don't even get that and would have to rush to complete your tasks.

Get to the point with your boss.

Most managers want you to be to the point and then decide whether or not to ask for more background.

You will make new friends

Either you will have co-workers at your level, or immediate supervisors who will empathize with you.

You are likely to work with these people for almost 1 -2 years minimum and see them more than you see your friends or your family.
